Sigh I really need a break.....(attention all people please come) :(

wolfsong204

Hi....ok so I have joined a lot of RP and I can't keep up with them like I have to go to the second page because all the RP I have joined are also on that page what i'm saying is....I NEED A BREAK!....I will not be on a lot I will only take little breaks for wings of fire because the more i'm on here the more it destroys my life the reason is because I have been wasting my days on here and now my mom wants me to stop using the computer so much I am not saying i'm leaving but when I do get on I need a recap and if no one will do that i'll leave that RP like I have been gone for one in a half days and one RP that I was on which was only on the second page suddenly said (105 non read posts) I freaked out and went on there and I was kinda scared and that really means that I would have to be on here 24/7 so I could catch up....and I REALLY need a life right now.....that's all I wanted to say....

I hope things go well for you! I'm in a lot of RPs too so I can probably briefly summarize them when you get back.

I totally get it. I have the same problem. I took a long break to work on my drawing and now I feel the need to roleplay.
